

Kourtnei Lind

Kourtnei Lind is currently in the cast of Spider-Man: Turn Off The Dark on Broadway. She was also a featured dancer in the ensemble of the First National Tour of the musical "Wicked". Kourtnei was recently the lead female role in a workshop for the upcoming show "Fighting Gravity" with choreographer Sonya Tayeh and director Michael Counts, set to open in NYC late 2013. She performed as a back-up dancer for recording artist Lily Halpern, opening for the sold-out shows of bands Hot Chelle Rae and Big Time Rush. Kourtnei was one of the top 20 dancers on Season 4 of "So You Think You Can Dance" on FOX. She danced for choreographer Luam as a part of New York Fashion Week 2011. Kourtnei has been dancing for 20 years and has trained with many of the nations top instructors. She has performed with the Moscow Ballet Company, traveled as a faculty member with multiple dance conventions, and has taught master classes and choreography around the world. Kourtnei was a member of collidEdance company with choreographer Erica Sobol, and has been featured in several dance performances in Los Angeles. She has been featured in a contemporary dance calendar, and was a principal dancer in an independent music video filmed in London. Kourtnei has a passion for self-expression through movement with a love-filled and positive, creative mentality that has established her as a performer, choreographer, instructor, and artist.